

PREPARING FOR THE HLC CAMPUS VISIT

A team of reviewers from the Higher Learning Commission will visit UTTC April 24-25, 2017. While at UTTC, the team will hold scheduled meetings with individuals and campus groups and may also talk with members of the campus community as they move around campus. You can contribute to a positive accreditation outcome in many ways:

1. Review UUTTC's mission at <http://www.uttc.edu/about/mission-and-logo>.
2. Read UTTC's assurance argument. A pdf of the document will be emailed to you.
3. Be available when the HLC team is on campus. We will have a formal schedule prior to the visit.
4. Become familiar with UTTC's strategic plan in its entirety at <http://sp2.uttc.edu/ie/home/Strategic%20Plan%2020102020/Forms/AllItems.aspx>.

You were also provided a hardcopy of a condensed version of the self-study.

Possible Questions the Team May Ask

The following lists provide examples of the types of questions review teams are likely to ask. These lists are not exhaustive, and you should expect the team to ask additional general and UTTC-specific questions. Please answer all questions honestly and thoughtfully without being negative. UTTC's self-study report identifies and discusses UTTC's strengths and challenges, and the evaluation team will be aware of these. Your interactions with the evaluation team will reinforce our self-study findings and provide strong evidence that we meet the Criteria for Accreditation.

GLOSSARY OF TERMS

Look in your department folder, and in other department folders, on the Institutional Effectiveness (IE) portal for examples of some of the following documents.

Academic Advancement Center

Support service with tutoring and disabilities support for students. Personnel are available to work with students one-on-one and with tutorial software to address students' academic needs. The Academic Advancement Center is open Monday through Friday and located on the main floor of the Education Building. Tutoring schedules for the professional tutors located on campus are posted.

Assurance Argument

Web-based site provided by the HLC where institutions provide narrative to make the case they meet the Criteria for Accreditation. The self-study, supporting evidence and web links, are uploaded to the Assurance Argument site so the visiting team can view the documents. You will be provided with an electronic copy of the documents so you can read the same materials the visiting team will be reading.

Curriculum Map

Visual tool that identifies which courses address which program outcomes. The map helps us ensure students are being taught the content we have identified with our program outcomes. Students are "introduced" to content in some courses (I); some courses reinforce content (R); and in some courses, students are expected to be "proficient" (P).

Department

The HLC refers to the departments as "units". In Academics, this is the different from the program. One department can have 2-3 programs. For example, the Automotive Technology department has the Automotive Technology AAS degree program and the Automotive Technology diploma program. The department is the overall entity that houses and oversees the academic programs within that department.

Department Action Plans

The Department Action Plans are uploaded to the IE portal for each department. The action plans, also referred to as unit plans by the HLC, were written for three years, from 2016-2019. The plans identify who is going to do what by what date so the department meets the goals it has identified.

Department Goals

The department goals are what we, as faculty and staff, hope to achieve for each one of our departments. Examples of academic department goals are:

- Goal #1 – Recruit, retain, and graduate competent professionals who meet industry requirements.
- Goal #2 – Apply and evaluate effective systems of program assessment.
- Goal #3 – Recruit and retain highly qualified faculty.

Divisions

The divisions at UTTC are 1) Administration; 2) Academic Affairs; 3) Student Services and 4) Campus Services.

Institutional Effectiveness Portal

When the HLC was here in 2011, they reported UTTC did not have one central location for all of our assessment plans/reports, policies, committee information, and other, which was viewable by the public. The IE portal was created in response. The most efficient way to access the portal is to go to About UTTC on the website, down to Institutional Policies, and click – you're there.

Institutional Learner Outcomes (ILOs)

Statements the college has developed that identify the knowledge and skills we say our graduates will possess by the time they graduate. We are all responsible for contributing to our graduates achieving these outcomes, regardless of our job at UTTC, teaching or non-teaching. The ILOs are:

Graduates of United Tribes Technical College will:

1. Exhibit effective oral and written communication. (Communication)
2. Analyze information from diverse sources. (Critical Thinking)
3. Develop solutions to mathematical and scientific problems (Quantitative & Scientific Reasoning)
4. Demonstrate skills necessary for living and working in a global society. (Personal & Social Responsibility)

Performance Indicators

For each one of our student learning outcomes, either program learning outcomes or ILOs, there are performance indicators listed that identify specific knowledge or skills that we measure so we know the student is meeting the outcome.

Example – the performance indicators are in blue font:

Exhibit effective oral and written communication. (Communication) - Outcome

1. Organize various types of communication
2. Articulate content knowledge
3. Demonstrate appropriate delivery (i.e. body language, tone, voice)
4. Apply mechanics of writing (standard grammar, punctuation, spelling)

Program Assessment Plan

Plan developed by each academic program that identifies which program outcomes will be assessed each semester, in which class(es), and by what assessment measure (rubric, exam, project). The current program assessment plans were written for 2017-2019.

Program Outcomes

A program outcome is what a graduate of your program will know or be able to do upon completion of the program. (The goal is for a UTTC graduate to meet both the ILOs and the program outcomes.)

Self-Study

Process used to examine how well a college meets the five criteria the Higher Learning Commission and to identify what we do well and areas we are working to improve. The information gathered during the self-study is written in the Assurance Argument and shared with the HLC. The goal is to assure the HLC that we are meeting the criteria and should maintain our accreditation.

Service Learning

Teaching and learning strategy that integrates community service with classroom instruction. Students volunteer for community functions to apply what they are learning in the classroom.

Strategic Plan

A management activity that is used to set priorities, focus resources, strengthen operations, ensure that employees and other stakeholders are working toward common goals, and establish agreement around intended outcomes/results.
